

28 Seamen Winning Battle Against Sea

Air Lift Saves 13 By Noon

NORFOLK, Va. (UPI) — At least 28 seamen aboard the stern half of a tanker broken in two by heavy waves were winning their battle against the sea today, but seven others, apparently including the veteran skipper and several officers, were missing.

Survivors picked off the rolling bulk of the Pine Ridge by helicopters from the Navy carrier Valley Forge said they spent a rough night in the stern section but were not worried because of confidence the compartment bulkhead would hold.

HELICOPTERS FROM the Navy carrier Valley Forge picked survivors off the hulk morning-long and prospects appeared good for rescue of all 28.

By noon 13 survivors had been rescued.

But the outlook was bleak for Capt. Clark Snyder, 42, Havertown, Pa., his 1st mate, 2nd mate, 3rd mate, quartermaster, radio operator and steward. The Coast Guard said it had been established that there were 35 men aboard the ship and that 28 were saved in the stern section.

BUT THE HAPLESS officers apparently were in the bridge, on the forward part of the ship, when it broke in two shortly before noon Wednesday with such suddenness that the radio operator was unable to get out a distress call.

The stern gave the appearance today of a stubby, seaworthy vessel but the bow plunged partially under the waves shortly after the breakup and no sign of life was seen aboard the front section after that.

THE SKIPPER of the Esso Jamestown, another tanker in the disaster area about 125 miles east of Cape Hatteras, N. C., said "the seas were sometimes up to 20 feet high last night. I don't think anybody could live in it."

JAMES C. LEWIS, Winston-Salem, N.C., an officer rescued by helicopter, said aboard the Valley Forge that although the seas were running high and "the weather was pretty bad," "we had three bulkheads in front of us" that provided water-tight compartments to keep them afloat, the Navy reported.

Lewis said that he did not see the captain and first mate during the time he was aboard the stern section.

CAIRO, U.A.R. — King Saud assumed complete control of his oil-rich kingdom of Saudi Arabia today as the result of an apparent power struggle with his brother, Crown Prince Faisal.

IN YEAR-END REPORT

Hoover Unveils Red Youth Corps

WASHINGTON — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover warned today that the Communists are planning to set up a new national youth organization in the United States "clandestinely" masterminded by party members.

Hoover said the Communists are completing arrangements for a conference in Chicago starting Dec. 31 to map plans for the youth corps. He said the organization's "programs and activities" will be secretly directed by Red party members.

THE FBI DIRECTOR, in a year-end report to Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers, said the Communist party, under the leadership of "Moscow-trained" chairman Gus Hall, strengthened its ties with Russia and with Communists in Cuba and other countries during 1960.

Particularly significant is the party's new emphasis upon youth activities, Hoover said. "Under

RECORD COLD KNIVES INTO SOUTH

AWAITING THE ARRIVAL of the ambulance, 7-year-old Jimmy Garner of 759 B Street, Cathedral City, was injured early today when he ran in front of an automobile on Amado Road near North Palm Canyon Drive. Desert Hospital spokesman said that the boy is undergoing a complete examination and x-rays, but is not believed to have been injured. The youth ran between two parked cars in front of a car driven by Harry Quirk, 44, of 553 Beverly Drive, police said. Pictured above, traffic officer Jim Glauser (back to camera) and Carl King, driver of the car that the boy was riding in, talk to the youth.

Manure Law Passes First Council Reading

A new ordinance which prohibits the use or importation of animal manure within the city limits of Palm Springs, was introduced by its first reading last night, and was passed by a 4-3 vote.

The ordinance came under heavy discussion when three councilmen voiced a strong opinion against it, saying that they did not know how the ordinance could be enforced.

Mayor Frank Bogert said that the new law covered only part of the problem, and indicated that it "was restrictive to certain manufacturers."

ISRAEL DENIES MISLEADING U.S.

JERUSALEM, Israel (UPI) — An authorized Israeli source denied today that Israel misled the United States about the atomic reactor under construction in the Negev Desert.

The source termed "ridiculous" reports that Israel told the United States the building was that of a textile plant.

PREMIER DAVID BEN-GURION made the first official admission that an atomic reactor was being built in the Negev to the Knesset (parliament) Wednesday. His statement followed reports that Israel was building a reactor to be used to produce atomic bombs with the aid of the French.

Ben-Gurion said the reactor, which would be completed in three or four years, would be dedicated entirely to research for peaceful use of atomic energy.

HE SAID THE plant would have a capacity of 24,000 thermal kilowatts when completed "which will serve the needs of industry, agriculture, health and science."

Israeli Ambassador Avraham Harman gave excerpts of Ben-Gurion's statement to the State Department in Washington Wednesday in reply to previous U.S. questions. U.S. officials refused to say whether they were satisfied with the explanation.

THE REACTOR will be Israel's second. It has a small reactor, with a capacity of about 1,000 kilowatts, built in the Rehovoth area with American aid.

Work on the atomic plant in the Negev, east of Dimona, began 18 months ago with the help of French scientists and technicians. Its estimated cost is $700 million. The source denied that Israel attempted to keep the construction secret. He said it just was not publicized so as not to arouse the Arab nations.

Inquiry Board Hears Safety Inspector

Lack of Funds,
Manpower Cited
As Top Factors

NEW YORK — (UPI) — A safety inspector aboard the aircraft carrier Constellation told a naval board of inquiry today that a lack of manpower and funds sometimes hampered safety precautions during construction of the $250 million ship.

Robert J. McCartney told the court it was his duty to determine "unsafe conditions and unsafe acts" aboard the ship and to request that they be corrected.

"THE GREATEST problem of the safety division in getting conditions corrected was a lack of manpower," he said.

"We have been stymied in some things by a lack of funds. We have requested individuals to make corrections and they just didn't have the manpower or the job order to do it."

FORTY-NINE CIVILIAN workers on the carrier were killed in Monday's disastrous flash fire at the Brooklyn Navy Yard. The board of inquiry is investigating the cause of the fire which set the completion of the carrier back about a year.

Memorial services for the dead were conducted today.

Paula Collier Succumbs on SP Daylight

Special to The Desert Sun
GLENDALE — A Palm Springs woman en route to San Francisco today suffered a fatal heart attack on the Southern Pacific Daylight passenger train.

Mrs. Paula Marr Collier, 70, of 358 Via Altamira, was found dead in a parlor car when the train pulled into Glendale station.

Police said that the train left Union Station in Los Angeles at 8:15 a.m. and Mrs. Collier apparently succumbed shortly afterwards.

SECTION 14 ZONE ACTION DELAYED

The city planning commission public hearing Wednesday on proposed rezoning of portions of Section 14 to upgrade the use of some of the heartland sectors of Palm Springs drew strong opposition from Agua Caliente tribal council chairman Mrs. Eileen Miguel and Cruz Siva Cruz.

The commission continued the hearing to Jan. 4 to permit the Indians to conduct further meetings. Maps of the proposals have been sent each allottee or representative. Breakdowns of the pertinent zoning law will be reproduced and sent each allottee. The city has already spent approximately $345 in special materials to advise each allottee of the exact zoning map.

BASICALLY, CHANGES proposed are expansion of R-1 (single unit dwelling) in the north section, G-R (guest ranch) in the south, and buffer R-2 (multiple unit dwelling, not hotel) in the middle. Trailer park zoning is to be deleted, but non-conforming use rights continue, without expansion. Zoning on Tahquitz - McCallum, and west of Indian Avenue and Sunrise Way is unchanged.

Mrs. Miguel told the commission that more explanation should be given individual land allottees. She said that the meetings between planning department personnel and tribal council members concerned lands of the council members themselves.

PLANNING DIRECTOR Jack Bearpaw told the commission that the Indians themselves set the meeting dates, but only tribal council members came. Cruz said he wasn't notified of the meetings. Cruz told the commission that the Indians wouldn't state their feelings in a public hearing. He said the matter wasn't public business. Later, City Attorney Jerry Bunker, at commission request, reviewed the 1951 federal statute which gives California and its political subdivisions complete jurisdiction except tax powers over Indian lands.

JUDGE EUGENE Theriault told the commission that his Indian clients approved his proposed changes.

No appearances or communications were brought before the commission except by Dr. C. A. Reagan on his application for a conditional use permit for a 140 unit hotel with accessory shops in Section 36 on a private road off Sunrise Way.

DR. REAGAN alone made presentations on his application for a conditional use permit for a 49 bed acute general hospital also in Section 36.

The hotel proposed would have a restaurant, eight stores, and cocktail lounges, plus room units, at the location 50 feet north of San Raphael Road. The public hearing was closed, and a field trip planned. City engineer Phil Abrams was detailed to determine flood control clearance.

The hospital application for the one-story frame-stucco building with ornamental stone facade in front is dependent on state hospital board final approval, and authorization in writing from the county flood control officials. The site is approximately 10 acres.

Pepper Tree Inn Sale Announced

The Pepper Tree Inn, last of David Margolis' commercial holdings here, has been purchased by Samuel J. DeSarno and Joseph Miller, it was disclosed today.

The two men purchased the Howard Manor from Margolis and ex-heavyweight boxing champion Jack Dempsey earlier this year.

THE PURCHASE price was not disclosed by either Margolis or the DeSarno-Miller combination.

The Pepper Tree Inn, a 40-unit hotel occupying the corner of Granvia Valmonte and North Indian Avenue, was purchased by Margolis during the period of time

Florida Crops in Danger

Record cold knifed into the South today with below freezing weather all the way to the Gulf of Mexico.

Louisville, Ky., shivered in record seven below cold and the mercury dropped to 20 above—five degrees below the old record—at Mobile, Ala., on the Gulf Coast.

The cold wave, which covered the nation from the Rocky Mountains to the Atlantic Coast and from Canada to the Gulf, could imperil some citrus and south Florida vegetable crops.

IN NORTH FLORIDA, temperatures were in the 20s at dawn. The mercury fell to a low of 40 at Miami and weathermen warned of even lower readings tonight. Forecasts called for an untropical low of near 50 along Florida's tropical keys.

Early morning lows included five below at Hill City, Kan.; three above at Kirksville, Mo.; 16 below at Greensburg, Ind., and three below to seven below in Ohio's eight largest cities.

SNOW PUNCTUATED the cold in many areas between the Rockies and Appalachians and from Kansas into northern Texas.

Winter's first storm, officially just a day old, blew out to sea where it whipped waves 12 feet high in the Atlantic. Behind, it left age-old misery across a wide area and sent weather-blamed deaths since the cold struck three days ago soaring above two score.

WISCONSIN, BUFFEET by 25 m.p.h. Canadian winds, recorded some of the country's lowest temperatures, but brought a crack from a cab driver who said, "At least you don't have to shovel it."

Snow that lay across much of the Midwest generally bypassed the Badger State. Wisconsin readings during the night dipped to 13 degrees below zero at Grantsburg and 9 below at Park Falls.

SHEPHERD'S PLAY UNDER WAY AT INN

A Christmas gift to the community from the Desert Sun, the Desert Inn and the Ferrall's Playhouse at Deep Well — the oldest Christmas comedy in the English language — will be presented four times today, tomorrow and Saturday on the grounds of the Desert Inn.

Titled "The Shepherd's Play," the production will be presented at noon and at 2, 4 and 6 p.m., daily through Saturday from a hay rack positioned at the Desert Inn.

There is no admission charge for the play and the public is invited to stroll into the grounds to view the production.

AMBULANCE ATTENDANTS aid police in removing June McIntyre, 45, from her automobile following collision with a large beverage truck at intersection of North Calle Marcus and Granvia Valmonte at about 11:40

PASTOR FINDS SHORTS TWIST HIS THOUGHTS

DENTON, Tex. (UPI) — The Rev. Tom Weaver, new Methodist district superintendent, borrowed a vacuum cleaner from a neighbor to spruce up the parsonage and it turned into one of his most embarrassing moments.

When he took it back, he was greeted by the lady of the house in very short shorts.

She was embarrassed. She started to apologize. He was a bit flushed of cheek, too, but he was handling the situation just fine until he found himself saying:

"Lady, I've brought back your lawn mower."

he and Dempsey owned the Howard Manor. The hotel is constructed around two courtyards, one ultra-modern in concept, the other a modification of early California mission architecture.

AT THE SAME time, DeSarno, wealthy Los Angeles industrial caterer-importer, and Miller, prominent Beverly Hills - Palm Springs realtor, announced a plan for complete redecoration and re-refrigeration of all Pepper Tree Inn facilities.

Miller represented both the purchaser and the seller in the transaction.

"CHRISTMAS SHOPPING is fun, exciting and easy in Palm Springs." This is the theme of the Retail Merchants Division of the Chamber of Commerce in its current Yuletide promotion. ## Truck Leaves With Village Yuletide Gift

PS Christmas Club Sends First Load To Mexico Orphans

The first pickup truck load of gifts from Palm Springs area residents to the 44 children of the House of Hope orphanage near Tijuana was on its way yesterday, to give some Christmas joy, warmth, and food to the youngsters who are remembered only by strangers who are touched by children's needs.

Dr. and Mrs. M. W. Addes, both continuing volunteer workers for House of Hope operated by Senor and Senora Robert Bringas, drove gifts of cash, food, clothing, and 50 toys in time for Christmas.

GREETING THEM WILL BE children ranging from 15 months to 14 years of age, who have decorated a big umbrella tree on the orphanage grounds as their Christmas tree. From scraps of bright paper and little glittering materials of glass and metal, the youngsters are putting a festive touch to the brightly-scrubbed buildings that is their home.

Dr. Addes explained that the 44 children have no source of food and clothing except "gifts of interested people. Most of these children are part American, but forgotten except in the affection of the Bringas' orphanage. The House of Hope is simply an expanded home with one big family from many parents," he explained.

THE CHRISTMAS CLUB, sponsored here by Jacqueline, The Desert Sun and station KDES, continues its drive through Saturday. A second delivery of food, cash, and clothing donations will be delivered early next week to help care for the youngsters. Approximately 300 toys are being distributed in the Palm Springs area to other needy youngsters.

Machan Funeral To Be Held at Stoughton, Wis.

Funeral services for Neal Edward Machan, 24, 1311 Camino Anapola, who was fatally injured in an automobile accident in Indio Dec. 16, will be held in Stoughton, Wis. FitzHenry Funeral Home of Indio was in charge of local arrangements.

PALM DESERT — Directors of Silver Spur Properties will discuss selling of land to investors and developers of projects in the Properties at their scheduled meeting Friday at the headquarters here.

Included in the discussion will be sales for riding stables, a compact golf course, tennis courts and club house, according to Sol Lesser, chairman of the board.

Directors of the Properties with Lesser are Willard Keith, Hernando Courtwright, Norman Freeman, Joseph Shane, Craig Smith, Carl Leserman, Harpo Marx, Adrian Schwilck and Clifford Carling.

PUC Ups Bonanza Western Fares

SAN FRANCISCO—UP—The Public Utilities Commission today granted intrastate fare increases to seven airlines which generally will increase charges by 2½ per cent plus $1 per one-way ticket.

The airlines were Western Airlines, Trans World Airlines, Bonanza Air Lines, American Airlines, United Air Lines, West Coast Airlines and Pacific Air Lines.

The increase paralleled a raise authorized last July 1 for interstate flights by the Civil Aeronautics Board. The higher intrastate fares may be made effective in 20 days.

'Go-Cart' Bad Choice for Gift

Vehicles Illegal On Street

By GEORGE LAINE
Before you rush out and buy Junior that nifty little "go-cart" he's been demanding for Christmas, better double check your investment, the Palm Springs Police Department advised today.

You may be throwing your money away, said Lt. Dale Thompson.

"THESE 'GO-CARTS' have four wheels and a motor," said the lieutenant. "By definition, they are motor vehicles."

"They are governed by the regulations set forth in the California Vehicle Code and that document is pretty binding."

Youngsters who get the "go-carts" under their Christmas trees will find that Santa Claus pitched 'em a big curve when they see what the jolly elf has let them in for.

MOTOR OFFICER Nick Maff, who's up on the Vehicle Code, said that if Palm Springs kids could drive the carts legally on city streets, they'd still have to:

—Comply with CVC regulations on windshields, stop and tail lights, windshield wipers, rear view mirror and other physical equipment.

—Pass a driver's license examination, the earliest age for which is 15.

—Obtain a vehicle registration for the cart.

SINCE MOST OF the driving of the pint-sized vehicles is performed by children under the age of 15, their operation is strictly illegal, Maff said.

"In the second place," he said, "there is no place in the City of Palm Springs where their operation is legitimate. They cannot be driven on public streets, in parks, even on the Polo Grounds parking area. The nearest private track where they are operated is, I believe, in Indio."

The Police Department isn't trying to play Scrooge for the Village's children. Their intent is predicated on maintaining Christmas as the joyous period it is intended to create.

"OUR BIGGEST CONCERN is for the safety of these children," said Lt. Thompson. "These 'go-carts' present quite a problem."

"They're almost impossible to see from a car of normal size. If it were an opinion — and the considered opinion of safety and traffic officials throughout the nation — that these vehicles cannot be safely operated on public streets."

Other cities have had accidents — including several fatalities — among the youthful drivers — and have subsequently ruled the "go carts" off the streets.

"We don't want to wait until we have one to do something about it," the lieutenant explained. "We're acting first."

MOTOR OFFICER NICK MAFF explains to Mrs. Hazel Ryan that Spike Cross is in violation of the California Vehicle Code by driving his "go-cart" on a public street. Actually, Maff explained, there is no place in Palm Springs where the pint-sized vehicles may be legally operated. The Police Department noted this fact in advance of Christmas in order to discourage the purchase of such vehicles as yule gifts for youngsters. (Desert Sun Photo)

DOWN WITH CARDS

SACC Flubbed But Cause Was Noble

By LYLE C. WILSON
WASHINGTON — The SACC didn't get anywhere, and I didn't think it would. It is an admirable society, however, with noble objectives. It should prosper. The SACC is the Society for the Abolition of Christmas Cards.

Many persons will consider the society to be subversive. Some of my neighbors will caution their children to come indoors when I pass by. Old friends may cut me dead. Nevertheless, the Christmas card must go. It is the costly verminiform appendix of the Christmas season.

THESE CARDS ANNUALLY cost almost as much as the common cold; more than a polaris submarine. Moreover, this annual avalanche engulfs and entraps the regular mail, causing more important matter — such as letters containing checks — to be lost in the shuffle for weeks or, even, for all time.

Talk about waste! The stamp bill alone would build a lot of schools. For printing, more is spent than for stamps. The patient postmen are hump-backed for lugging sacks of cards, and they suffer fallen arches, corns and bunions by reason of the extra mileage our Christmas whimsy imposes on them.

THERE ARE UPRIGHT citizens (your correspondent is one) with the courage to chuck the shackles of Christmas cardery but who regularly receive cards in shoals. More in sorrow than in anger we know that among our loving friends are some with the lint-picking habit of card indexing the whole Christmas card shambles so that during the days immediately following Dec. 25 there occur in living rooms across the lands such scenes as this:

The Little Woman: Oh, Frank, we got cards today from the Richerts, the Stones and the Eggers. The Stones' is real pretty. Frank: Yeah, they must mailed 'em after they got ours.

The L.W.: Look in the index, dear, and see if they sent to us last year. Bet they didn't.

Frank: Nope, nor the year before, either. I'll take 'em off the list.

The L.W.: No, leave 'em on, but let's send a real cheap card next year and mail it after Christmas.

IT IS THE WOMEN, of course, who keep the Christmas card-business going, waiting before, during and after the process of selecting and addressing their offerings that it is an infernal chore. If women had the courage of their convictions and the slightest gift for collective action among themselves, the Christmas card would be dead and gone.

Perhaps women will gain the courage some day. But gain the gift of collective action, never! It isn't in them. There are women — the smartest of their sex — who know and concede this lack among themselves and their sisters. Hence the popularity and membership of another organization long well-established here, the SPWGIMTT.

THE SPWGIMTT is translated: The Sodality for Preventing Women Gathering in Groups of More Than Three. In clubs, leagues and such, women do gather, of course, beyond the proper numbers. But the record of the journals and minutes of their meetings would demonstrate the futility of feminine collectivity.

Else, they would have squashed the Christmas card, long since.

An average of 287 forest fires broke out every day during 1959 for a total of 7,281 more than in 1958.

It's what you give with a Gas washer-dryer....

... All the clean, fresh laundry she'll do next year — and for years after that! If you tried to wrap it up, you'd run out of ribbon. And you still wouldn't have wrapped the most important gift: the hours and hours it saves her.

Isn't the best way to wrap it all up a new gas combination washer-dryer? Does a complete load 20% faster than any other kind! And costs about 1/4 as much to operate.

Choose from these at gas appliance dealers now:
RCA Whirlpool • O'Keefe & Merritt • Maytag • Norge • Easy • Philco-Bendix.

Financing up to 36 months can be arranged.

Today is Thursday, Dec. 22 the 357th day of the year with nine more in 1960.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The morning stars are Mars, Saturn and Venus.

On this day, in history:

In 1775, the Continental naval fleet was actively organized under the command of New England sea Captain Ezek Hopkins.

In 1809, American poet Edwin Arlington Robinson was born.

In 1885, American composer and music critic Deems Taylor was born.

In 1894, a French court-martial found Captain Alfred Dreyfus guilty of treason — an action that inflamed public opinion throughout the world.

In 1944, when the Germans demanded surrender of his troops at Bastogne, Belgium, Gen. Anthony McAuliffe replied, "nuts."

New Foreign Policy U.N. Team

The United Nations represents the direction in which the world is moving, toward closer independence of peoples. Without the U.N. there would be only chaos and darkness. It is the only hope as the balance of the world shifts and divides, and instability increases.

The U.N. should be the brains and the torch of organized and collective search for sanity in the empire of the world.

In these words, Adlai Stevenson gives a pretty clear idea of the kind of United Nations—and the kind of world the new State Department team of Rusk, Bowles and Stevenson will be fighting for. Although written a few months ago, this declaration of the man who will serve as our new representative to the U.N. follows pretty well the recent statement of President-elect Kennedy: "My hope in the coming years is that the foreign policy of the United States will be identified in the minds of the people of the world as a policy that is not merely anti-Communist, but is for freedom."

Kennedy's objective—and his appointment of Dean Rusk to the top spot in foreign affairs—seems to have met with general approval. Passing up Stevenson or Bowles for the post is another indication that the President-elect will have a personal hand in setting foreign policy.

Even many of Stevenson's critics believe that he will make a good U.S. representative to the U.N. He is a quick and convincing speaker, should hold his own in debate with any of the other representatives. While not a policy maker, he will be very much in the public eye all around the globe.

All three men are world-minded—all have had considerable experience and first hand knowledge of world problems. As head of the Rockefeller Foundation Rusk's job has been "to promote the well-being of mankind throughout the world"—a mighty big assignment. He has served as assistant secretary in both the State and War departments.

It may well be that this new foreign team will prove effective in meeting the complexity of problems with which this country is faced in and out of the United Nations. Their approach will be watched, not only in this country but through the world, with a great deal of interest.

There seems to be some uneasiness on the part of the big European allies based on the belief that the new Administration in Washington may over-emphasize problems of the under-developed nations. Kennedy has expressed a keen interest in Africa, Asia and Latin America—has not had much to say about European affairs.

The period of change-over in administrations in the United States has caused a lot of uncertainties and speculation. The sooner that the Kennedy government is organized and gets down to business the better it will be for everyone.

1960, When Was That?

WASHINGTON, D.C. — When a President is able to keep his good intentions and campaign promises — that'll be news. Did Mr. Eisenhower "liberate" East Europe from the Russians? Did he "unleash" Chiang Kai-shek and give Red China back to the Nationalists? Did he "clean up the mess" in Washington or were the scandals of his Secretary for Air and his Assistant to the President mere Republican versions of the Truman scandals?

And Mr. Truman—after his unforgettable victory in 1948. Did he institute the Brannan plan for agriculture? Did he repeal the Taft-Hartley Labor Act? Anybody old enough to recall the election promises of Franklin Roosevelt, Herbert Hoover or Woodrow Wilson will know how poorly they were kept.

IT IS NOT THAT these Presidents were deceitful or particularly over-optimistic. Good people go to church every Sunday and vow on their knees to lead a "new life." These are all statements of intent, given in the best of faith. But we on earth do not have control of our environments. We are not stronger than the forces of nature both inside and outside us.

It is now fairly evident that President-elect Kennedy is not going to do all that he promised to do. He will not be the 90-day wonder on Capitol Hill. The 1960 election reduced the Democratic majorities in both House and Senate. It produced no mandate to sweep away the seniority system and the House Rules committee, those old safeguards against impetuosity.

THE FOUR-POINT welfare program which failed last summer — increased social security for the aged, a raising and broadening of minimum wage. Federal aid for schools and teachers. Federal aid for depressed areas—will be tried again. The program might get through in some modified form, but most likely it will stick around as the issues in the Congressional election of 1962.

Events that Mr. Kennedy never counted upon have intervened in foreign affairs. We are half-committed to show Castro the Big Stick. We are half-committed to a military policy in Europe of Bring The Boys Home.

IF THE SECRETARY of the Treasury tells the President-elect the same thing he tells others in confidence, we may have to do drastic things, like forbidding hard currency to leave the United States and like returning to the frugalities of government that will remind old-timers of the Coolidge Administration.

None of this need prevent John Kennedy from fulfilling the implied promise of his campaign slogan—"A time for greatness"—but he will certainly have to adapt his tactics to the current challenges. Obstinacy is not required of him. There is as much courage in flexibility as in firmness. In some cases we may find Mr. Kennedy doing what Richard Nixon would have done.

FOR ONE THING, there is far greater need in this country for developing atomic reactors and improved airlift. Mr. Kennedy's campaign indicated Federal crash programs in these fields—but Federal funds will be difficult to obtain. The new Democratic President may find it wiser to follow the Republican plan of encouraging private enterprise to make the investment.

Except for "Get Hoffa," little was said in the campaign about cracking down on organized crime and making our towns and cities more safe from hoodlums. But surely this would be more constructive and more economical in preserving lives and property than using the Presidential office to destroy State right-to-work laws and oil depletion allowances. The country needs big and small business more than it needs additional favors to the Labor Movement.

SCIENCE AND HISTORY, not slogans and social engineering, will determine John Kennedy's opportunities for greatness—and the nation's responses to him. Before the end of his normal incumbency things like overseas bases will be obsolete. Already, with missiles, aerial refueling and Polaris-armed submarines, we are in an era when the whole concept of collective defense should be revised.

We are within a few years of having communications, satellites owned and operated by private companies. These satellites will open an elaborate telephone system to the far-off continents, making it far easier to conduct profitable business—and making foreign aid much less necessary.

LUCKILY, MR. Kennedy is open to new ideas. This may be the key reason why he won't feel any compunction about throwing off the hobbles of those campaign promises. The President-elect won't be the first crown prince who came into power and found that he had to give up former practices and companions.

The one immutable policy that seems to guide Mr. Kennedy is "Go Forward!" This almost compels him to turn his back on those distant, bygone days of the 1960 campaign.

'Son...of a Gun'

This Side of The Sun

By Phat

A husband is a funny guy. He doesn't know the score. Buys football tickets in July. Wife's gifts on twelve two four.

That thought was inspired after meeting a local gentleman on the Drive Monday.

HE'S THE SAME MAN who told me one hot July day when I discussed football with him, that he was all set. Had just sent in his check for a season ticket to all of the Rams' games.

Monday he looked harassed. "Don't know what to get my wife," he said. "Oh, well, I've got until next Saturday to make up my mind."

RED KENYON has a potent idea. He'd have us pick up the time-boundary line which now zig-zags just this side of Yuma and plunk it down along the San Jacintos to the west. That would put us on Mountain Standard Time. MST. An hour ahead of Pacific Standard Time.

Then have the state legislature establish year-around Daylight Saving Time.

So we'd be ahead two hours from where we are now.

THE FIRST would take an Act of Congress, the second, the favor of state solons.

It's a good idea but we'd still be an hour out of step with Los Angeles, our chief source of supply. India and the desert east of us might not like it.

It seems sort of complicated and a long way around to gain two hours of sunshine when all you have to do is get up two hours earlier, and quit work two hours earlier.

MONKEYING with the hands of the clock could take us back to days before 1855 when there was no standard time. Then people would squint at the sun and when it was, straight up, that was 12 noon.

One hundred miles east, at the rate the earth spins, the squinters had it 12:06 p.m. and 100 miles west, 11:54 a.m.

THE THE RAILROADS came along and pushed through an Act of Congress establishing standard time, roughly a change of one hour every 1,000 miles. We got along pretty good that.

But if everybody is going to fool around with the hands of the clock and set their own time, we'll be back in the mid-eighties.

AND THINK of the people who get up at seven to get to work at eight. They'll be getting up at five and hitting the job at 6. Standard time, that is.

Think of the school kids showing their fresh faces at 7 a.m. instead of 9.

The way the world turns, there are just so many hours of sunshine a day.

TIME IS RELATIVE (and relatives are something you have to think about at Christmas time.) unless we have a modern day Joshua, (wasn't he the king who commanded the sun to stand still.) we might as well go along with it.

If we want to save sun, we can without tinkering with the hands of the clock.

Opening Them Early

STAN DELAPLANE:

My annual argument is on for the opening of Christmas presents on Christmas MORN-ING!

"When I was a boy—put down that plate and listen. When I was a boy, presents were opened in the morning. Opening presents on Christmas Eve is a heathen sort of custom, if you ask me."

Each year I advance this logical point. Each year I am cried down. It is enough to make Christmas too horrible to fight.

I AM CRIED DOWN mainly by my offspring. If these moppets had their merry way, Christmas presents would be opened the day they arrive.

"Can I open just ONE!" "Get your pinksies off that box. Quit pullin' at the ribbon."

"I was just straightening the box."

"SHADDAP!"

THAT IS OUR merry Christmas—cuffing the children and guarding packages from sudden assault.

We have two kinds of presents: The ones you open Christmas Eve—there's a frightful custom. Where does it come from anyway? Russia?

The ones we open Christmas Eve are from each other.

THEN WE HAVE the Santa Claus presents on Christmas morning. They are not as good as the Christmas Eve presents. Anti-climax stuff.

My five-year-old boy is particularly fond of them, however. Because Santa Claus slid right down the chimney with them.

THAT IS A MOST fascinating thought. "How did he keep from catching his pants on fire?" "Because his pants are fire-proof," I said. "So is his beard. However he must jump lively or he would toast like a marshmallow."

The way we know Santa Claus has been here is because the cookies have been eaten. And somebody drank the milk.

EACH CHRISTMAS Eve—after we open the presents; and there's a custom I will NEVER understand. Each Christmas Eve at that time, we put out milk and cookies for Santa Claus.

We put out a cookie we are particularly fond of ourselves—a chocolatey sort of thing.

IT IS WELL KNOWN that a man delivering a jillion parcels is going to be hungry. Naturally he will think very well of a boy who is thoughtful and who leaves out milk and the BEST cookies.

We would not be surprised if he said to himself: "What a thoughtful little boy to leave out this milk and these delicious cookies! I was going to leave him a couple of oranges. But I think now I will leave him a toy train."

THESE GOODIES are left on the hearth. Where Santa Claus cannot miss them—the stockings are hung right above them. You would have to be blind not to see them.

Every Christmas morning they are gone. Santa Claus loves our cookies.

(ONE TIME HE just took a bite out of one and left the rest of it. He has a bite a little like mine. Quite a bit like mine. He probably has an excellent dentist.)

Another way we know he has been there is you can see the rug squished down where he put his boot. I measured it for my son with my own foot. We wear about the same size shoes.

THESE MORNING excursions to see how much Santa Claus ate are high points. Still, I do think we ought to have ALL the presents in the morning.

Who in the world ever thought up this Christmas Eve present opening?

Some creeping socialist, the creep.

Okay, okay. I was just talking about it, that's all. Open them up. Hand me the big one that looks like it might have a robe.

Dear Abby...

...by Abigail VanBuren

DEAR ABBY: My problem may seem silly to you, but it's very serious to me. I am home all day with three children to take care of. Nothing exciting ever happens. I do the same thing every day. When my husband comes home, I just don't have anything to talk about. He certainly doesn't want to hear that I ironed today, did the dishes or vacuumed.

Lately he's been asking why I don't talk to him. Well, I just don't have anything to talk about. We've been married 8 years and are both 25. Have you any suggestions?

NOTHING TO SAY

DEAR NOTHING: If you want to iron the wrinkles out of your marriage, start by vacuuming the cobwebs out of your mind. Read this newspaper thoroughly every day and bone up on what's going on in the world. (And don't forget the sports section!) Ask hubby how he feels about the elections. Castro, the 49ers or the Colts. The wife who has nothing to say can clobber a marriage quicker than one who has too much to say.

DEAR ABBY: My name is Sandra and I am six years old. I have two friends and I hate both of them. What should I do? "FRIEND-HATER"

DEAR "FRIEND-HATER": The Bible tells us we should love our enemies. It says nothing about hating our friends. Try hard to be the kind of person you would want for a friend and see what happens.

DEAR ABBY: While shopping in one of our large stores, I happened to see a young girl put a couple of records under her coat. This upset me terribly because I had never seen anybody steal before.

I didn't want to tell the salesman because I didn't want to be responsible if they took her to jail. I didn't have nerve enough to talk to the girl because I didn't know what to say.

Now my conscience bothers me because I don't think I should have let it go. But what should I have done? WITNESS

DEAR WITNESS: If you lacked the courage to talk to the girl, you should have told the salesman. Now that she has succeeded in stealing the records, she'll probably steal something else. The embarrassment of being caught could have cured her. You missed a golden opportunity to perform a real service.

DECEMBER 22, 1940

For a while there it looked as though the desert wild flower loveliness might be lost to this season, but along came old Jupiter Pluvius the first of the week and Palm Springs profited by a fall of 1.57 inches of rain. It brought the season total to 1.67. The coldest for the year to date was a 37° on Dec. 14.

Local residents have purchased $325.02 worth of Christmas Seals to date, with sales exceeded by only two other county cities, Riverside, and Corona.

Employees of the city waste disposal department are to have two holidays at least, Christmas Day and New Year's Day, according to Carl McNealy, department head. No garbage pickups are scheduled on those days.

DECEMBER 22, 1930

Convention of public health officials of Southern California, held at the Desert Inn this week, was one of the most successful ever held by the group. Nearly 150 delegates were in attendance and very interesting talks were given. Among the famous medical men attending was Dr. George Parrish, health commissioner for Los Angeles.

Supervisors Stall Lumber Law Action

Discussion Will Be Delayed for At Least 90 Days

After listening to representatives of the Southern California Retail Lumber Association argue against the county building law which prohibits the use of white speck lumber, and to Building Director Charles Bixel's reasons for retention of the prohibition, the Board of Supervisors decided this week to delay action for 90 days.

"I believe we should get more information from other counties and from the cities in this county," said Supervisor Paul Anderson. The cities conform to the Uniform Building Code which permits use of white speck lumber for utility purposes.

"I DON'T SEE how we can quarrel with the Uniform Building Code," said Supervisor William Jones, "but in any event I believe we should come up with a law that is uniform throughout the county."

Bixel's stand was upheld by the well-known lumber firm of John Seaverkrup Lumber Co. "At first I was against exclusion of white speck," said Seaverkrup, "but I've come to believe that Bixel is right."

BIXEL SAID that many times the white speck will show up only minutely on the outside of the lumber, but it will be honeycombed with it on the inside. Such lumber absorbs moisture, more of a problem with present-day air conditioning, resulting in the necessity to tear out and rebuild.

He conceded that use of the lumber for certain jobs, on the outside where it gets plenty of air, is reasonable, but said that it is impossible to control its use county-wide and if it is allowed at all it is going to show up here and there where it shouldn't be used. "Tearing out and replacing is expensive," he declared.

Contrary to the Manhattan tendency to build on every available inch of land, more than 75 per cent of the 18-acre enclave of U.N. headquarters in New York is devoted to lawns, landscaping and gardens.

FIRST WING OF THE ANGEL VIEW Crippled Children's Hospital—the A. Wardman Wing, named in honor of major donor Aubrey Wardman, pioneer developer here—is inspected by building committee chairman Charles Eliot, board chairman

Mrs. Rose Bertram, and Sam Benton, president of the Angel View Crippled Children's Foundation, as building nears completion. Dedication of the 16-bed wing, complete with expandable kitchen facilities—is set for Feb. 19.

CITY TO COLLECT METER MONIES

Arrangements have been made to make regular collection of parking meter receipts here in order to show a more even accounting for monies received by the City of Palm Springs.

Finance Director Shelby Langford reported today that parking meter receipts for the month of November totaled $3,754 or an increase of $148 for the year to date.

Langford said that with regular collection dates and a regular schedule, a more accurate monthly comparison will be available. The city, in the month of November, had a total of 597 meters in operation.

DHS Cityhood Advised by Andersen

County Administrator Tells Public Meet To Incorporate

DESERT HOT SPRINGS—County administrator Robert Andersen last week advised incorporation for this community, during a public meeting called by the committee for study of incorporation.

THE COMMITTEE, headed by Victor Jublou, has maintained an independent study position on the question.

Andersen estimated the civic revenues, excluding fines, forfeitures and privilege fees at $38,865, and termed the communities approximately $8 million assessed valuation adequate for support of local government. He termed $4 million a comfortable valuation for communities of this population.

ON STREET AND road maintenance, the community paid in more than $16,000 last year, for $7,230 in expenditures, Andersen said. He estimated revenues by multiplying the registered voters by 3, but drew criticism from Jublou who said the population is smaller than the 3,300 figure given. Jublou reported comparable communities have experienced reductions in year-end balances in past fiscal year compared to previous years. He cited lack of auto dealerships, big stores as a factor in limiting city sales tax revenues.

Entertains at Christmas Eggnog Party

Trixie Jarrette hosted a pre-Christmas eggnog party in her Calle Rolph home Sunday afternoon. Decorations took on a foreign air in the form of angel chimes from Copenhagen and Christmas trees made of felt.

Among her guests were: Messrs. and Mrs. Carl M. Dornier, Eugene M. Best, Jeff R. Weatherly, J. E. McAttee and Mrs. May Morton, all of Riverside. Also, Messrs. and Mrs. Claude Fisher, Collis Steere, Toby Curtis, Francis Crocker, Page Hubble (from Pomona), Mrs. Trudy Blanco, Martinez (her mother), Eynone Bidell, Polly Isenogle, Eleanor Williamson Smith and Miss Sarena Victoria Smith.

An adult should always supervise recreation around a pond, lake, river or ocean front — when children are involved.

Former Deb Married to Richard Teller on Sunday

Vows were exchanged at the Temple Nove Sholem in Desert Hot Springs Sunday at 3 p.m. between Phyllis B. Smilen of Desert Hot Springs and Richard M. Teller of Los Angeles with Rabbi Isaac E. Bloch officiating.

The bride wore a white brocade bridal sheath, a tulle veil with beaded crown imported from France and a string of pearls. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and white carnations. The maid of honor, Miss Lynn Levant of Los Angeles, wore a periwinkle blue chiffon dress with gold accessories and carried a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums.

Best man was Avrum Schwartz of Los Angeles, who also sang "Love is a Many Splendored Thing" while the bride's brother, Barry Smilen, played an organ accompaniment.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Smilen of Desert Hot Springs, and is a graduate of Palm Springs High School where she was a Palm Springs Deb. She presided as Miss Palm Springs of 1958 at the Indio National Date Festival and is now a sophomore at San Fernando Valley State College in Northridge.

The groom is the son of Mrs. Louis Teller of Los Angeles and attended UCLA where he was a member of Kappa Nu fraternity. He is now a third year medical student at USC and a member of Phi Delta Epsilon medical fraternity.

After the ceremony, the 35 guests attended a wedding dinner at the Riviera Hotel.

A reception will be given in Los Angeles by the bridegroom's mother on Christmas Day, after the couple returns from their Carmel, Monterey and San Francisco honeymoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Teller will be at home in Los Angeles after the first of the year.

A LOVELY BRIDE was Linda Rey Wester, daughter of Mrs. Arlene Cox of Newport, who was married December 11 to Thomas Edwin Davis. (Terry Boris)

Davis-Wester Wedding Vows Said in Newport Chapel

Wearing a gown of Duchess lace, fashioned in the Victorian tradition, Linda Rey Wester, daughter of Mrs. Arlene Cox, of Newport, became the bride of Thomas Edwin Davis in a mid-afternoon ceremony at Our Lady of Mt. Carmel Catholic Church in Newport Beach on December 11. Father O'Brien officiated at the ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by George Beebe Jr. of Palm Springs.

The bridal gown had a high neckline and was molded to the bodice in a softly-draped bustle above a chapel train. Her veil was of silk illusion with a petite crown of seed pearls and crystal drops. She carried baby white orchids and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Marydall Harris, matron of honor, and the bride's aunt Miss Patricia Zinn of Carlsbad, attended her. Their gowns were wedgewood blue-satin with bell-shaped skirt and matching headress and veil. They carried blue and white carnations.

Everett Davis II was best man for his brother. Ushers were Jack Thompson and Bill Flory.

The reception was held in the Poolside Room at Disneyland Hotel.

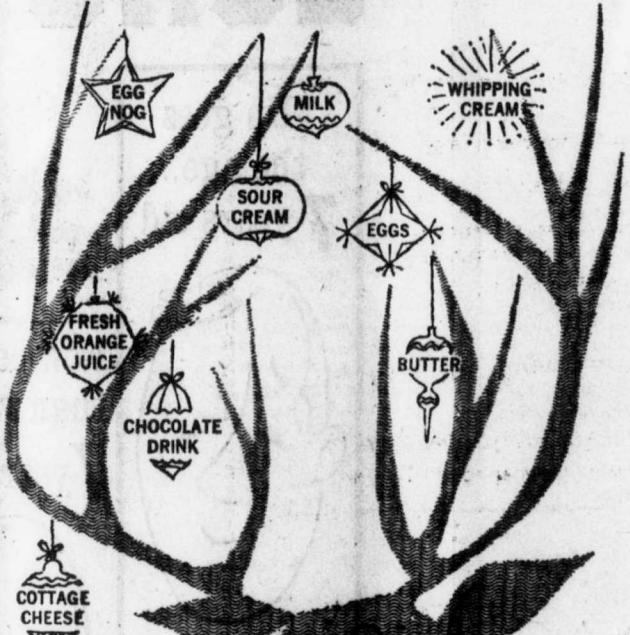

The bride is a graduate of Palm

Springs High School and Orange Coast College. The bridegroom, son of Everett Davis Jr. of Emerald Bay, graduated from Newport Harbor High School and Orange Coast College.

Following a honeymoon in Santa Barbara and Carmel, they will be at home on Balboa Island.

For Angels

Cherry angel cake is a simple but glamorous confection of snow white and cherry red — to carry Christmas colors to your table. To make one 10-inch cake, prepare one 15-ounce package of angel cake mix according to package directions. Fold 1/2 cup finely chopped and drained maraschino cherries (about 15 cherries) into the batter. Turn into ungreased 10-inch tube pan. Bake in 375-degree oven 35 to 45 minutes, or until cake tests done. Invert and cool. Cut cake in two layers. Whip 2 cups of heavy cream. Combine 1/4 cup of the whipped cream with 1/2 cup coarsely chopped walnuts and spread over bottom cake layer. Top with remaining layer. Frost cake with remaining cream. Garnish with 1/4 cup flaked coconut and cherry halves.

The season for cheer!

Neighbors Hosted at Housewarming

Tamarisk Country Club home owners Mr. and Mrs. George Goldstein hosted a housewarming Tuesday evening in their 12th green home for club neighbors.

Hot and cold hors d'oeuvres and a sit-down buffet were catered by Florence Lowell with a main course of Beef Wellington (New York strip wrapped in pastry dough).

The color scheme throughout was of beige and gold and music themes were from the piano played by Chuck Travis.

Present at the gathering were Messrs. and Mrs. Alexander Spare, Robert Marx, Louis E. Golan, William Leeb, Lee Freeman, Morris Ebin, David Holub, Kay Karahadian, Sydney Charney, Ellsworth Vines, Benjamin B. Smith, Leo Maranz, Dexter Woods, Ed Vines, Sanford Schulhofer, Charles Hanson, Harpo Marx (with her mother, Mrs. Bunny Fleming), W. W. Moore, Harry J. Drewery, Zeppo Marx, Messrs. ## Child's Play

Yule Gifts Fit to Be Tied Need Exciting Decoration

By JOYCE SCHULLER
United Press International
CHICAGO (U.P.) — It's "child's play" to produce a Christmas package of beauty and a joy to behold.

Or, so says Carol Hubbard Thompson, a gift wrappings company official.

She may be right; children have a knack for this kind of thing. But their elders frequently prove less adept at turning ribbons into pompons, stars, roses, swirls and other fancy bows. What starts out to be a ribbon rose often winds up looking like spaghetti in the hands of a non-pro.

For those who don't like spaghetti, at least on gift packages, Mrs. Thompson suggested ready-made bows. One of the new ones on the market, a huge swirl of wide satin-like ribbon is called a pinwheel for obvious reasons.

A smaller one, called a jewel bow, looks more like a three-dimensional star. Mrs. Thompson, who is with Tie-Tie, deftly turned two of these into a tree ornament by joining them back-to-back with rubber cement.

She used an ordinary roll of satin-type ribbon for another easy-to-make package ornament. Tightly rolling about six inches of the ribbon, she moistened the ends to keep it rolled and glued it to a package wrapped in Santa Claus print paper. Over the roll of ribbon, she mounted a Santa Claus cutout, snipped from a scrap of the paper. Several of these cutouts mounted on the package gave it a novel three-dimensional look.

Another ribbon trick turned a length of ribbon into tiny bells. The gift wrapper started each bell with a half-circle of ribbon. One side of the ribbon served as the straight side of the half-circle, and a 50-cent piece served as a pattern for cutting the circular edges. Again, self-adhesive, satin-type ribbon was used, and Mrs. Thompson stuck the two corners of each half-circle together, turning them into a cone or bell.

She threaded a string through the centers of the ribbon bells with a needle.

SNOW MAN CAKE is a gay operation for a kitchen geared to holiday living. Decked out with candy canes the jaunty fellow will be a colorful dessert for a Christmas party or dinner, and it not difficult to assemble.

This Snow Man Won't Melt

2 cups sifted enriched flour
2½ teaspoons baking powder.
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup shortening
1½ cups sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 cup milk
4 egg whites

Oil the sides and bottoms of a one-quart and a two-quart round-bottom casserole dish and a 5-inch tart pan; line bottoms with waxed paper. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cream together sugar and shortening until light and fluffy. Blend in vanilla extract. Add flour mixture alternately with milk. Beat well after each addition. Beat in egg whites one at a time, then beat at high speed for one minute. Pour ½ cup batter in tart pan and pour remaining batter into casserole dishes, spreading evenly. Bake in a slow oven (325 degrees F.), 20 minutes for tart pan, 40 to 45 for casserole dishes.

Allow to cool before frosting. Remove from dishes and trim small piece from one side of each round so rounds will fit together to form head and body of snow man. Carefully slice each round in half to form layers. Reassemble rounds by frosting between layers and over top and sides of cake with Snowy Frosting, rounded side up. Place frosted rounds on serving plate to form snow man. To make snow man's hat, cut tart cake into shape of top hat.

Snowy Frosting

¾ cup hot water
2 cups sugar
3 to 4 egg whites
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 cup shredded coconut
¼ cup chopped nuts

Combine hot water and sugar in saucepan. Bring to boiling and boil for seven minutes. Meanwhile beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Pour sirup slowly into egg whites, beating at high speed. Add vanilla and continue beating until frosting reaches desired spreading consistency. Spread between, on tops and sides of cake layers. Sprinkle coconut evenly over frosting. Frost snow man hat and sprinkle with ¼ cup chopped nuts. Use cut maraschino cherries for mouth and raisins for eyes and coat buttons.

Dennis Crosby Denies He's Dad Of Beauty's Child

HOLLYWOOD—Dennis Crosby admitted yesterday on the witness stand that he had intimate relations with a former beauty contestant who claims he is the father of her 3-year old daughter.

Crosby, testifying at a paternity suit brought by Marilyn Scott, however, denied he was the father of the girl, Denise Michele.

HE SAID HE HAD 16 to 19 drinks of vodka on a night in February of 1957 before he had relations with the brunette divorcee.

The son of crooner Bing Crosby said he felt sure Denise was not his daughter because Mrs. Scott "has bad morals... she has done something similar to this before."

"I have heard rumors that it, the baby, was not mine," said Crosby.

MILTON ZERIN, attorney for Marilyn Scott, 28, asked each juror before they were chosen late Tuesday if they were willing to disregard the fact that the defendant's dad is "as much a part of American as Babe Ruth."

Zerin said the only issue at question was whether Dennis, 26, was the father of Miss Scott's daughter, Denise Michele, 3.

He extracted statements from the jurors saying they would not worry about possible "embarrassment" to Bing Crosby while considering a verdict.

Vegas, New York Combine Trying To Buy Harold's

RENO —Spokesmen confirmed yesterday that negotiations were under way to sell Harold's Club, one of the oldest and largest casinos in Nevada, to a group of Lake Tahoe and Las Vegas gamblers. The reported sale price was $17 million.

Raymond I. Smith, cofounder and general manager of the club, said a news conference would be scheduled later today if the talks were successful.

The reported buyers are Oliver Kahle, owner of Oliver's Club at Lake Tahoe, his associate, Ben Jaffe, and several Las Vegas and New York interests.

Jenkins' Trio Unveiled

Pianist Opens at RM Hotel

The Marv Jenkins Trio. Marv Jenkins, piano; Bill Martin, bass; Alonzo Garibaldi, drums. Reviewed in opening at Whispering Waters in Rancho Mirage.

Whispering Waters, which has made a habit of presenting the unusual this season, ripped open a special yuletide present for desert area club-goers last night as it unveiled the exemplary music of the Marv Jenkins Trio.

Jenkins and his cohorts are even better than their advance publicity indicated.

IN THE FIRST PLACE, the entire trio is jazz-oriented. Jenkins, who just ended a year-long tour as part of the Barney Kessel Quartet, is just as versatile a young man as I've seen anywhere. In addition to his piano work—in which he sounds much like Hamp Hawes when Hamp was in his heyday—Marv also plays flute and sings.

In combination with Martin and Garibaldi, he finds an element that speaks great chapters in a few short choruses.

Let's look at some of the things attempted by Jenkins and the Trio.

ON ONE TYPICAL SET, he started with that old rocker, "One Mint Julep," in which the bass figured prominently and the tune ended with the standard jazz drum breaks displayed intermittently between melodic phrases.

"Misty" followed with Jenkins' rendering it so sensitively as to have made Errol Garner choke up. "Fugue for Lulu," a chunk of original material that I hadn't previously heard, showed an almost Bruckner-like preciousness. Structure-wise, it prompted more than a little food for thought as bass, piano and drums placed chordal and rhythmic patterns atop one another.

At this juncture, Jenkins undertook a flute solo in "The Swinging

MARV JENKINS TRIO, which opened Tuesday in Whispering Waters Hotel, rolls through one of its selections in rollicking good humor during the first night at work. The trio plays jazz-oriented music with standards and Broadway tunes thrown in for good measure. Large crowd attended opening and capacity houses are expected for weekend. (Desert Sun Photo)

Entertainment in the Sun

Shepherd Blues," the sole concession to Christmas music made by the threesome. Unfettered by the piano—with only the flute and rhythm accompaniment—the trio took on a completely new sound.

THE BALANCE OF THE set included "How High the Moon," a request for "Everything Happens to Me," a romping version of "Some Other Time," a deeply etched effort on "My Ship" and a vocal treatment for "It's Almost Like Being in Love," in which Jenkins came off with a fairly Bobby Shortish impact.

Later, the trio played "Round

Midnight," Monk's great tune. "What's New?" answered a request for Milt Jackson's "Bag's Groove," delivered a version of Ahmad Jamal's "New River," wrought Gillespie's "Night in Tunisia" and delivered a Jenkins original called "Good Little Man."

LAST YEAR WE HAD absolutely no jazz, per se, in the desert area. This year, we've had two such groups—Billy Marx' Trio and now Jenkins and his group—and both at the same location, Whispering Waters.

Jazz buffs from about town are almost a cinch to jam pack the Waters for the Jenkins group and ought to wind up making the trip to Rancho Mirage more than once. All they have to do is hear Jenkins and Company once—I know, since I've heard them. I'll be back.

George Laine.

Philm Siegel's PALM SPRINGS CAMERA

Polaroid has announced a camera with a new kind of electric eye—a micro-eye. Small as a match-head, it is almost as sensitive as a human eye. It can "see" even in a dimly lit living room. Because it automatically adjusts both the lens and shutter it has twice the range of most other electric eye cameras. It is the only electric eye camera in the world that works both indoors and out in such a range of light.

As you move from sunlight to shade to lamplight, you can take pictures minute after minute without changing your lens or shutter setting once.

Even if you've never held a camera in your hands before, you will get sharp, correctly exposed pictures every time. And they are developed on the spot, ready to enjoy a moment after you click the shutter.

Isn't this the way you've always wanted to take pictures?

Let us give you a demonstration.

OF THE CITY OF PALM SPRINGS, CALIFORNIA, PROVIDING FOR THE REQUIREMENTS OF SECTION 1527 OF THE PENAL CODE OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA RELATING TO THE TRAINING OF LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICERS.
BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF PALM SPRINGS, CALIFORNIA, AS FOLLOWS:
SECTION 1. A new ARTICLE 150 to be added to the City of Palm Springs Ordinance Code, to read as follows:
ARTICLE 150
CITATION IN LIEU OF IMMEDIATE ARRAIGNMENT
1501. NOTICE TO APPEAR.
CONTENTS.
If any person is arrested for a violation of any provision of this Code and such person is not immediately taken before a magistrate as prescribed in the State Penal Code, the arresting officer shall prepare in duplicate a written notice to appear in court, containing the name and address of such person, the offense charged, and the time and place where and when such person shall appear in court. The notice shall comply with Section 833.1 of the State Penal Code.
1502. SIGNATURE AND RELEASE OF VIOLATOR.
The arresting officer shall deliver one copy of the notice to the arrested person and shall secure his written promise to appear in court at the time and place specified in the notice by having him sign the duplicate copy. Immediately thereafter, the arresting officer shall release the arrested person from custody and shall, as soon as practicable, file the duplicate notice with the magistrate specified therein.
1503. VIOLATION OF PROMISE TO APPEAR.
Any person who violates his written promise to appear in court pursuant to such notice, or who in lieu thereof fails to deposit bail as provided in Section 833.1 of the State Penal Code, is guilty of a misdemeanor punishable as provided in Section 833.3 of this Code regardless of the disposition of the charge upon which he was originally arrested.
1504. WARRANT FOR ARREST.
When a person signs a written promise to appear at the time and place specified in the written promise to appear and has not been arrested as provided in Section 833.1 of the State Penal Code, the magistrate shall issue and have delivered for execution a warrant for his arrest within twenty (20) days after his failure to appear, as promised, or if such person promises to appear before an officer authorized to accept bail other than a magistrate and fails to do so on or before the date when he promised to appear, then, within twenty (20) days after the delivery of such written promise to appear by the officer to a magistrate having jurisdiction over the offense.
SECTION 2. PUBLICATION. The City Clerk is hereby ordered and directed to certify to the passage of this ordinance and to cause the same to be published once in The Desert Sun, a daily newspaper of general circulation, printed and published in the City of Palm Springs, California.
SECTION 3. EFFECTIVE DATE. This ordinance shall be in full force and effect thirty (30) days after passage.

Glaser Ends Riviera Assignment

By GEORGE LAINE

Ernie Glaser, who has shored the Palm Springs Riviera Hotel into a position of second to none in the Village, has resigned his position as resident manager there, it was announced yesterday.

Glaser will continue to function in his present capacity until Jan. 1. No replacement has yet been named by the Riviera.

GLASER TOLD YOUR reporter that the press of the job was such that his health was suffering and that he was spending less and less time with his family.

"I felt that in all fairness to the hotel, I should allow them to make some other arrangement," he said. "Of course, my good wishes are always with them and I'm sure that they will have continued success."

That last is probably true, but with Glaser out of the Riviera picture the job is certain to be more difficult.

IN BRIEF, HERE are some of the major projects Glaser put together while at the Riviera:

—Introduction of the Friday Night "Clam Bakes," a piscatorial delight that brought large crowds to the North Indian Avenue hotel.

—Brought the Lido Lounge and Riviera dining room a thoroughgoing continental flavor with the introduction of Parisian costumes for the cocktail waitresses.

—Inaugurated his own "Millionaire's Salad" for the hotel's diners and wound up with universal acclaim for the delicacy.

—And many other items, most of them too detailed to go into here.

GLASER WAS MORE than an idea man for the hotel's culinary department. He was also more than General Manager Ted Ratcliff's best advisor.

Glaser managed to convey his ideas and ideals about hotel operation to the rank and file of the Riviera staff in such terms as to bring the hotel a new era of continental manner combined with superb good taste.

For so long as he attended it, he WAS the Riviera.

Next for Glaser? A short vacation to be followed by the unveiling of a brand new project.

"It will not take my complete time," said Ernie, murdering the English language as he usually does. "I will have moments for family and for whatever else I wish. But I'll miss the Riviera, I know."

THE CITY COUNCIL wants the community to join in a competition to re-name the Playhouse at Sunrise Way and Ramon Road. The council managed to come to some sort of agreement recognizing that since there were no plays being presented in the old quonset hut, the title was at least misleading.

I'd like to see the competition conducted even though I'm sure there is only one or two real obvious choices for the place.

My entry in any such contest would be either "The Palm Springs Area Square Dance Head-surgery at Cedars, is expected to go home in time for Christmas . . . And, in Burbank, a thief got away with six full-length movies at Columbia . . . Included were two Oscar winners, "On the Waterfront" and "From Here to Eternity" . . . He's in good shape to start his own TV station . . .

NOTES OFF THE CUFF: The Mayor signed a proclamation making Dec. 31 "Eddy Howard New Year's Eve in Palm Springs" . . . That's in recognition of the CBS-Radio alignment that will beam the Howard music to the nation on their New Year's Eve "Dance Party" . . . You can hear it locally via KCMJ—or, better still, be in the audience at El Mirador to shriek in the new year . . .

quarters" or "Mary Carlin's Folly."

LAST-MINUTE YULE shopping? Two good bets for this hectic period are "Flower Fantasy of Palm Springs" at the Desert Inn Grounds and Cliff and Lou Sawyer's shop across from Saddle and Siroin.

I've got a beatnik Santa Claus that came from Flower Fantasy and it's the cutest item of the season so far.

And miniature tikis are available—along with a great selection of other items—at the Sawyers shop.

ENTERTAINMENT SCENE: Debbie Reynolds and Elvis Presley haven't picked up their "Sour Apples" awards from the Hollywood Women's Press Club yet . . . They won 'em as least cooperative actor and actress . . . Betty Hutton plans to marry jazz trumpet player Pete Candoli in "Vegas on Christmas Eve" . . . Red Skelton, recovering from

County Holds Up Grievance Board Plan

Anderson's Plea Tabled at Request Of Fred McCall

A proposal by Supervisor Paul Anderson that a committee be established to hear grievances of county employees was tabled by the Board of Supervisors this week at the suggestion of Supervisor Fred McCall until the first of the year when the new board is seated.

"I don't know whether I'm in favor of this or not," said McCall. "I suggest we hold it over to the first of the year."

THE NEW BOARD will have only one change in its membership. Norman Davis of Beaumont will replace Supervisor Curtis Chamberlain of Riverside by decree of the voters. There could be a change in board chairmanship. The present chairman is Anderson. Anderson had asked that Administrative Officer Robert Anderson and Personnel Director Donald Spencer be directed to consider the advisability of establishment of a grievances committee. Supervisor George Berkey had made a motion approving the study when McCall interrupted with his suggestion for delay.

SPENCER is known to favor a hearing board and Anderson to oppose it, but further consideration could change their present thinking.

When first advised that Supervisor Anderson contemplated the establishment of a hearing committee, the administrative officer declared, "I believe this has come up because one department head fired one employee. I'd hate to create a cumbersome procedure to solve the problem of one individual. If I'm asked to give it consideration I'll do so, but it will be a long-time consideration."

IKE THANKS TROOPS WITH YULE SPEECH

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower yesterday thanked the nation's far-flung servicemen in his final Christmas message as commander-in-chief for their sacrifices as "defenders of peace."

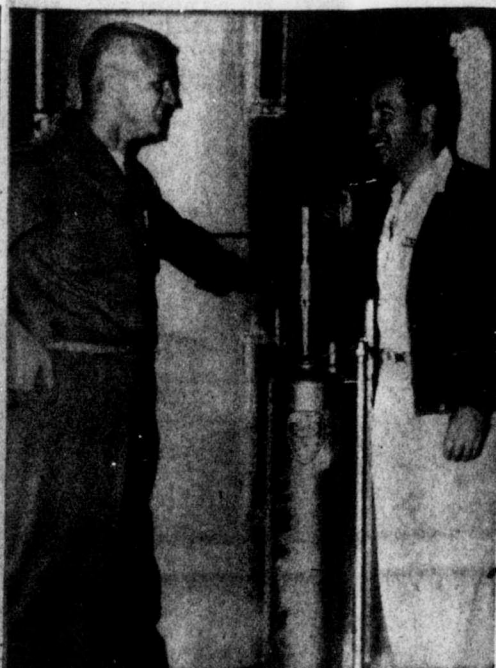

Peace, he said, "is the absolute necessity of our time."

In his 250-word message, the President said Mrs. Eisenhower joined him in "sending out thanks and Christmas greetings to you, with best wishes for a happy New Year."

"God bless you all."

Eisenhower's remarks will be broadcast to U.S. servicemen all over the world on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day by the Armed Forces Radio Network.

NEW SERVISOF COMPANY FORMS

A new partnership has been formed by Bob White and Joe Eicher, known as Servisoft of Palm Springs, to serve the area from Palm Springs to the Imperial County line.

Each, president of Henry Simarian, Inc., has been associated with the firm for 15 years. White came to Palm Springs following his discharge from the armed forces after the Korean war, and for six years served as production manager for Desert Hand Laundry.

The two men pointed out the growing demand for soft water in the Palm Springs and Coachella Valley area as a prime reason for starting Servisoft, which uses the latest General Electric development in high capacity resin, produced under license by Dow Chemical.

'Swedish Christmas' Observed

By JEAN PATANE

Last Thursday morning Jeannette Graham visited her friendly neighbors in the "Swedish Spirit of Christmas." Remembering the warm feeling of friendship when an exchange student from Sweden celebrated St. Lucia's Day by bringing sweets and coffee to her and her classmates in college, Miss Graham prepared a tray of cranberry juice, cherry coffee cake and coffee for each of the following: Miss Agnes Pelton and her houseguest, her cousin Eve Shroyer; Mrs. Charles Tambling, Miss Erma Taylor, Mrs. Miriam Williamson, and the guests at Desert Lodge where she makes her home. Miss Graham is on the staff of the Desert Museum in Palm Springs.

Paul Addressi returned by Jetliner from Israel where he made his second visit to supervise the completion of the golf course in Caesarea on the Mediterranean coast of Israel. He visited in Haifa and Tel Aviv and spent three days in Rome before leaving for New York.

Visitors from Lomita are sisters, Dr. Etta Wood and Mrs. Maude Swope, and friend Mrs. Bea Cousins who are pre-holiday houseguests at the home of another sister and family, the Ed Joegensens.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Matson and daughter, Cathy, arrived Monday night from their home in Berkeley to spend the Christmas holidays with her family. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Powell and daughter, Sonja, Mrs. Powell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. Paterson, who make their home in Pasadena, arrived Wednesday.

After a 10 day visit with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Wendel Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Vernie Phillips left Thursday for their home in Georgetown, Ill.

Tribe Eliminated in Banning Tourney

Lose to Panthers 37 to 47

Palm Springs High School Indians were eliminated from the championship flight of the Banning Block B Christmas basketball tournament Wednesday when they bowed to Ferris High, one of the DeAnza League favorites, 47 to 37. Coach Jim Workman's squad will play Beaumont High today at 4:30 p. m. for third place.

The Indians rallied too late to overcome an earlier Panther lead in an exciting game. Ferris started strong and took a 9-3 lead in the first period of the thriller.

THE TRIBE matched them 10 for 10 in the second period and trailed at half time, 13-19. Ferris added a six point lead in the third period to head the Indians by 10 as the final period started.

In this one, the two teams battled on even terms with coach Workman's boys getting stronger but time ran out of them.

TYRONNE TAYLOR again topped the Indians in scoring with 13 points. Carlos Reyes bucketed 10, all after intermission. Ron Studebaker and Mark Edwards totaled five each and Norris and Dag Duran, subs, got two each.

Taylor now has 49 points for the tournament.

In the other half of the semi-final bracket, Hemet defeated Beaumont 43-34.

HEMET AND PERRIS, both of the DeAnza league will meet in the finals today at 8:30 p.m.

This afternoon at 4:30, the Indians play the Beaumont Cougars for third place in the tournament.

Entries Coming In Rapidly for Junior Tourney

Entries are coming in steadily for the 13th annual Junior Holiday tennis tournament to be staged at the Palm Springs Tennis Club Dec. 27 to 29.

Vini Rurac, tennis pro at the club, in charge of the event anticipates a larger entry list than last year.

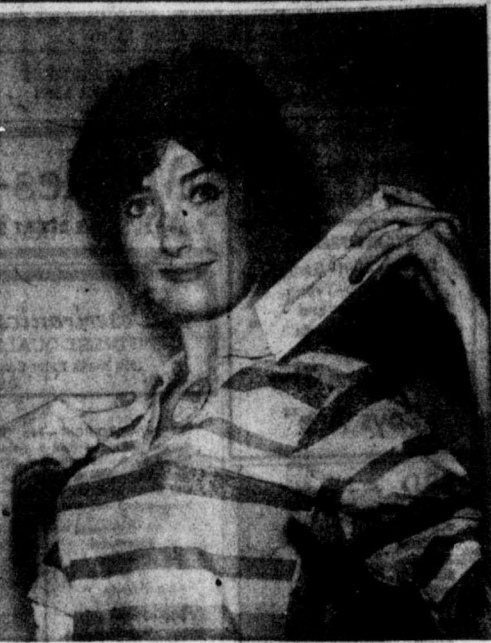

Play will be in three classes, boys and girls singles, 13 and under, 15 and under and 18 and under.

Start Second Round In Holiday Tourney

SAN DIEGO — The second round of the San Diego Holiday Basketball Tournament got underway today with Whittier, Cal Poly of Pomona, Cal Western and San Diego Marine Corps Recruiting Depot sporting wins.

"IT'S AN IDEAL Christmas gift," is the advice of attractive Kit Bro, as she points to the Palm Springs Golf Classic season button now available at a reduced rate. The season pass costs $20, and affords full privileges. "It's a gift for the hard to please, as well as an ideal present for a golfer or golf fan," said Miss Bro. (Desert-Sun Photo)

MUNY COURSE PAR TAKES A BEATING

Zell Eaton's 65 Sets New P.S. Links Mark

Zell Eaton, pro-manager at the Palm Springs Municipal Golf course, playing in a foursome Wednesday with Mark Thomas, assistant tournament director for the Professional Golfers' Association. Ray Kelly of Thunderbird and Johnny Jacobs, younger brother of Tommy Jacobs, touring pro from Bermuda Dunes Country Club, set a new record for the Muny course when he carded a 65.

Eaton registered five birdies and one eagle in setting his record.

OTHERWISE action was quiet this week on most of the Desert Empire's golf courses in anticipation of the Christmas holidays.

Fairways and greens were thronged as usual but no set tournaments were scheduled.

At Thunderbird Country Club two noted visitors tried out the course. Sen. Stuart Symington and Gen. Tom Powers, the latter from the Strategic Air Command at Omaha, belted the ball around this week.

AT SHADOW MOUNTAIN Golf Club members were engaged in qualifying rounds to select the 32 slots who will compete for the Virginia Field Parker Trophy up for competition next week.

At Indian Wells Country Club a Member-Guest tournament is scheduled for Dec. 29 with entries closing Dec. 27. The annual Women's Invitational at Indian Wells is scheduled for Jan. 16 and 17 over a 36-hole route.

Cubs, Angels Meet in First Game Mar. 11

Polo Grounds Site For 1961 Opener For Desert Fans

Desert area fans will have their first chance to see two major league teams in action at the Polo Grounds March 11, Harry Voelker, managing affairs for the Desert Angels, the local group paving the way for spring training here by the new Los Angeles American League Club, said Thursday.

The Chicago Cubs, training in Arizona, will be at the Polo Grounds March 11 and March 12 for the first games here for the Angels.

OFFICIALS of the Los Angeles club are due here in mid-February and battery men will arrive the last week of the month. The entire squad will be here March 1 to start official spring training.

Under major league rules, March 1 is the official start of spring training for all teams.

With the Cubs here for the first game will be Ernie Banks, Wednesday listed as the top shortstop in the National League.

VOELKER HAS BEEN in constant communication with general manager Fred Haney of the Los Angeles club. He has not yet received the entire spring training exhibition game schedule but said that the Chicago Cubs would be the first here.

Indio, in the meantime, lost its bid to host the other new American League team, Washington, for spring training. Officials at Indio were notified Wednesday that their bid was too late and that the new Senators had arranged for a Florida training site.

Showdown Near On Pari-Mutuel Clerks' Demand

LOS ANGELES — Representatives of the Pari-mutuel Clerks Guild and the Federation of California Racing Associations meet today in a showdown session that may determine whether Santa Anita opens its winter meeting next Monday.

Should no agreement be reached on wage demands, the Pari-mutuel Guild has indicated it intended serving strike notice.

The federation represents 10 California tracks in opposing efforts of the guild to gain a raise of $3 a day over a three-year period and $1 a day contribution to a pension fund.

Chargers Deny San Diego Move

LOS ANGELES — The Los Angeles Chargers, denying they plan to move to San Diego, continued drills today for their New Year's Day game against Houston for the American Football League championship.

Jack Onslow Dies After Heart Attack

CONCORD, Mass. — Jack Onslow, 72, one-time stormy manager of the Chicago White Sox, died today of a heart attack.

Onslow broke into the majors with Detroit in 1912.

Ernie Banks May Be Sent To First Base

Leads Shortstops In National League Second Straight Year

CINCINNATI — There is a plan afoot to convert Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs to a first baseman even though the official averages claim he's the National League's top defensive shortstop.

For the second straight year, Banks led all shortstops in the league in fielding during 1960 with a .977 average. Dick Groat of Pittsburgh, the runnerup, was far back with .966.

Yet, before Lou Boudreau quit as Cub manager last October, he announced plans for switching Banks to first base in 1961. Several other members of the Cubs also feel Banks would be more suited at first base than shortstop because his arm apparently isn't too strong.

BANKS WAS ONE of three Cub fielding leaders. Dick Ellsworth paced the league's pitchers by handling 41 chances without an error for a perfect 1.000 average and Bob Will was among the three top outfielders with a .922 percentage.

Curt Flood of St. Louis finished one point higher than Will with a .993 average while Gus Bell of Cincinnati and Ken Walters of Philadelphia wound up tied for third with identical marks of .988.

Bill Mazeroski, hero of Pittsburgh's World Series triumph over New York, was far and away the best fielding second baseman with his .989 average, and Jim Davenport of San Francisco led the third basemen for the second straight season with a percentage of .961.

BIG JOE ADCOCK of Milwaukee barely shaded Norm Larker of Los Angeles for honors at first base. Adcock's fielding average was .9932 and Larker's .9930.

Smoky Burgess of the Pirates wound up the top defensive catcher in the league for the first time in his career. He had a .994 percentage.

In team fielding, Los Angeles finished first by the narrowest possible margin over Pittsburgh and Cincinnati, who were tied for second. The Dodgers compiled a .9791 average while the Pirates and Reds each fielded .9790.

The Giants wound up last on defense with a .972 percentage.

Harris Scores 2nd Ace

Rocky Harris, a local resident and member of Indian Wells Country Club since the club opened, sank his second hole-in-one on the course yesterday afternoon.

The play came on the sixth hole, when using a three-iron he drove the ball 210 yards to a hole-in-one. The ball rolled about 16 feet into the cup.

Harris, who shoots a 73 on the course, was playing with three Indian Wells Pros, Max Evans, Bud Porter, Don Cosgrove, and member Bill Hamilton.

Expect to Name Site, Date Of 3rd Heavy Bout Today

NEW YORK — Promoter Humbert (Jack) Fugazy expects to announce today the site and date of the third Floyd Patterson-Ingemar Johansson heavyweight title fight—probably the Orange Bowl at Miami, Fla., on March 13.

Whether the announcement will be held up by nephew Bill Fugazy's delay in flying back to New York after Wednesday's conference with Johansson at Goteborg, Sweden, was uncertain.

Bill, president of Feature Sports Inc., was grounded for the night at Prestwick, Scotland, by a snowstorm.

Uncle Humbert, 74, is executive director of F.S.I. in which young Bill is a majority stockholder.

AT PRESTWICK Bill said ex-champion Johansson had signed a Goteborg statement assuring his willingness to fight at whatever date and site Bill selected.

Two other sites, in addition to Miami, have been seriously considered: The Los Angeles Coliseum on April 3 and New York's Madison Square Garden on March 23.

Champion Patterson and manager Gus d'Amato prefer Miami for the fight since that site would leave the large population areas of New York and Los Angeles open for theater TV. Patterson gets a lion's share of the promotion's theater TV receipts.

In their two previous bouts, both at New York, Johansson, 28, took the championship from Floyd, 25, on a third round knockout in June, 1959, and Patterson became the first man to recapture the title last June on a fifth-round kayo over Ingemar.

Packers Working On Frozen Grid For Title Game

GREEN BAY, Wis. — With no break in Wisconsin's cold wave expected before Saturday, the Green Bay Packers are resigned to working out on frozen turf until they leave for Philadelphia and the National Football League title game against the Eagles.

The Packers worked out for an hour Wednesday while the temperature stood at 9 degrees.

Coach Vince Lombardi said the workout was "just an ordinary practice," and said he couldn't speculate on whether the weather conditions would hurt his team's title chances Monday.

"We'll just have to wait and see. It may be just as bad in Philadelphia," which, Lombardi said, is the reason the Packers are running the hazard of practicing on the frozen ground rather than moving the drills into a gymnasium.

Before and after Wednesday's workout Lombardi and his aides further tutored the Packers with films and chalk talks.

Lombardi still reports all his Packers in ready-to-play condition for the championship game. The only minor difficulties are a few pulled muscles and aching shoulders, which are coming around slowly because of the extreme cold.

Passing Against Power on Schedule

NEW YORK — It'll be the Philadelphia Eagles' passing against the Green Bay Packers crunching ground offensive in next Monday's National Football League title game.

Official team statistics released today by the NFL reveal that the Eagles had the second best passing offense in the circuit while the Packers had the second best rushing attack.

Huskies and Gophers In Two-a-Day Drills

PASADENA — Minnesota's Golden Gophers, who have no intention of being trampled by Washington in the Rose Bowl Jan. 2 as were the Badgers of Wisconsin a year ago, returned to their twice-daily drills today.

Coach Murray Warmath, who reminds some local fans of the late Henry (Red) Sanders of UCLA with his Tennessee background and dry humor, Wednesday drilled his national champions and Big Ten champions on defense, inside the 10-yard line.

Trojans, Hawaii Meet Tonight in First of 2 Games

LOS ANGELES — The University of Southern California Trojans embark on what they hope will be a pair of warmup basketball games for the approaching Los Angeles Classic tonight against the University of Hawaii.

The Rainbows have beaten SC only 5 times in 22 games.

The games tonight and Friday will be played at the Loyola gymnasium.

Hawaii, in the middle of a nine-game mainland tour has a 7-7 record. The Trojans have a 4-1 record, the only loss coming to Kansas State.

Bowl Programs Out in Advance

PASADENA — The Athletic Association of Western Universities announced today that the official program for the Rose Bowl game Jan. 2 between Minnesota and Washington would be available to football fans by mail in advance of the game.

Desert Angels to Incorporate As Independent Organization

Desert Angels Committee, in an effort to divorce itself completely from the city, plans to incorporate and has already asked attorney F. Gillar Boyd and city attorney Jerry Bunker to start the necessary proceedings.

DAC Chairman Ken Kirk said last night that the new officers of the group will be himself as president, Mayor Frank Bogert, vice president, Gillar Boyd, secretary, and J. Ray Corliss, treasurer. Members of the committee — George Beebe, Jr., Ted McKinney, Phil Abrams, Howard Haddock, William Smith, and Joel Stone, will be on the Board of Directors.

Bunker said last night that the contract with the Los Angeles Angels would be signed by the new DAC, Inc., and City Manager Dan Wagner said that correspondence with the Angels has indicated that the contract "can be with the City of Palm Springs or its authorized agents."

But the big discussion last night came when Councilman McKinney moved that the City of Palm Springs back any deficit up to $5,000 to cover the improvements to the ball park "so that the guarantors wouldn't be paying money for the improvement of city-owned property."

The discussion of the subject went on for almost an hour, with councilman Beebe apparently holding out for more than the $5,000 backing by the city. When the vote was taken it was 4-3 in favor of backing the deficit — but only if there was a deficit.

Because of the difference in the vote, the council moved immediately to unanimously pass a resolution welcoming the Angels to Palm Springs for Spring training.

Not a Steal But a Good Deal

NESTLED near the mountain, this 3 bedroom, 2 bath home is built for outdoor and indoor living. Completely walled-in rear yard with terraced landscaping, patio on third level with natural stone built-in barbecue. Patio front too. Sprinkler system front and back. Extra large living room with oversize fireplace, dining room, modern kitchen, laundry room, garage, sun deck on roof. Seven full grown trees plus shrubbery. Naturally we love it too, but must sell. FA 4-2356. Shown only by appointment.

NOT VERY OFTEN CAN WE OFFER A JEWEL LIKE THIS — CLOSE TO town with the air and surroundings of a country estate. Because of underground utilities there is an unobstructed view from the living room and poolside patio. Delightfully furnished — linens and dishes included. 4 Bedrooms, 3 baths. Far below replacement cost — priced at $39,500.

Rules Listed for 'Tax Option' Status Determination

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The Desert Sun as a public service will present a series of articles on taxes once weekly between now and the tax deadline of April 15. The articles are scheduled to appear each Thursday, and will be written by R. R. Buttcane, local Certified Public Accountant.)

R. R. BUTTCANE, C.P.A.
Pursuant to Section 1371-7 of the Internal Revenue Code certain domestic corporations may elect to have their income taxed directly to shareholders rather than subject the income to double taxation on corporate dividends.

There are certain prerequisites to electing "tax option" status. The corporation must not be affiliated with any other corporation. The number of shareholders must be 10 or less. (A husband and wife are classed as one shareholder.) All shareholders must be individuals or an estate. Partnerships or non-resident aliens may not be shareholders. All shareholders must consent in writing to the election.

IF ALL OF THE above conditions are met a corporation may file for election on Treasury Department form 2553. However, filing must be made between the 1st day of the last month of the corporate fiscal year and the last day of the first month of the new fiscal year.

In other words a calendar year corporation must file between Dec. 1, 1960 and Jan. 31, 1961.

IN ADDITION TO "passing through" to shareholders all ordinary income and long term capital gains of the corporation, operating losses may be "passed through" but not in an amount in excess of the adjusted basis of the shareholders investment.

All net income of the corporation whether distributed or not is taxable to the shareholders. However, if undistributed net income is paid in a later year it is not taxable to the shareholder.

"TAX OPTION" status is particularly advantageous in a new corporation where early years losses are probable. The losses may be deducted from other ordinary income. Then when the corporation is in a good profit structure "tax option" status may be terminated if it is profitable taxwise to do so.

Any change in the corporate structure that would have initially prevented it from attaining "tax option" status will serve to automatically terminate the status.

RANCHO MIRAGE

Laughton, Lanchester Visit WW

By JEAN PATANE

Charles Laughton and his wife, Elsa Lanchester, are enjoying an extended weekend at the Whispering Waters Hotel, having arrived Friday from their home in Los Angeles. Also at Whispering Waters for the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hayden of Del Mar, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Wynkoop of Monrovia, George O. Hartman from Los Angeles and Herman Hoyer, former owner of Ciro's in Hollywood who now makes his home in Honolulu, Hawaii.

Major and Mrs. Walter T. Smith, Jr., and daughter, Robin, flew their plane into Desert Air Park and spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Smith, sr. The major is stationed at March Air Force Base.

Michael Buccino, who is attending Cal Poly at Pomona and majoring in landscape architecture, was the winner in a contest for best design and plan for the Cal Poly entry in the Pasadena Rose Parade. The float, "Slow Boat To China" will be executed in three sections and constructed by the students at Cal Poly. Young Michael and his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. (Angela) Walker, who make their home in San Diego, arrived home Friday to spend the holidays with their parents at their home on Desert Drive.

Here for the weekend at Nelson's Motel were Mr. and Mrs. George Gidding of Los Angeles and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Taylor from San Diego. The Nelsons' granddaughters, Patricia Ann and Sharon Nelson of Santa Ana, are spending several days with their grandparents.

Jo Ann Spiegelman flew in from Wichita, Kans., where she is attending school to join her brother, Howard, who is a senior at Fairfax High School in Los Angeles, for the holiday vacation with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Spiegelman.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Franklin over the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Ken Olsen who make their home in Los Angeles.

DHS SCOUTS TO DONATE YULE TREES

DESERT HOT SPRINGS—Boy Scout Troop 39 here will donate a Christmas tree to any organization which plans to provide Christmas donations for some local needy family.

Scoutmaster Walt Pagan said organizations wishing a tree on the plan may contact Harley Thompson or Jim Haidet, Fairview 5-8753.

leas who have been in Visalia for the past five months, returned to their Tangier Road home for the season.

Home from University of California at Riverside for the holiday vacation, Diana Lloyd has as her houseguest Don Shayler of Berkeley. Diana is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Hough, managers of the Montecito Apartments. Mr. and Mrs. Grant Norman, their son, John, and Mrs. Edna Hosner of Vashon Island, Wash., are at the Montecito while visiting with the Houghs, and Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Mitchell of Woodstock, Ill., are making their home here this season. Mitchell has joined the staff of the Professional Pharmacy.

Mrs. H. M. (Mary) Greene is here to spend the holiday vacation with her husband at their Greene's Desert Lodge. Mrs. Greene has been in Anaheim for the past several weeks in her capacity as Representative of the State Department of Education out of Sacramento. She will return to the Anaheim area Jan. 3. Frequent guests at the Lodge, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rotherum who were here for the weekend, returned to their home in Los Angeles Tuesday. William Foly, L. E. Copple, Harry Sapp, Bill Hastie and Boyde Dahle, all of Los Angeles, were at Greene's Desert Lodge while attending a convention in the area, and Mrs. Robert Van Patten returned to her home in Portland, Ore., after a three month desert vacation.

Lee Holeberg of Los Angeles spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Emmons and family at their mountain home in Idyllwild.

Enjoying a pre-holiday vacation at the White Sun Guest Ranch are Mr. and Mrs. Vince Haly and family and Mr. and Mrs. Emery S. Hanson and family from Newport Beach. Mr. and Mrs. George Doolittle arrived Monday from their home in Coronado for a three week holiday vacation and Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Mettleman and children, Jonathan and Gina, Atherton, are guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Freed, who are here from Chicago, Ill., for the holidays.

Angie Buccino, who is attending San Bernardino Valley College and her sister, Diane, who is a student at San Diego State, are home to spend the holidays with their parents Mr. and Mrs. Joe Buccino and baby sister, Jodi.

Formerly of Twentynine Palms, Betty Walters is now making her home at the Sun Dial Apartments.

Mrs. Michael Kalsman and her grandchildren Jamie Ann and Jobby Hodges, drove up from Yuma, Ariz., Friday to spend the weekend with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Campbell.

Diane Walker, who is in her freshman year at Long Beach State College, is home to spend the holidays with her family, the Harry Walkers. While Mr. and Mrs. George Gidding were visiting in the area they were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Walker, who are close friends.

Be Careful

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI) — Doctors at Children's Hospital of the East Bay warn parents that if a child is weak after a trip to the woods, he should be examined carefully for wood ticks. The tick, the doctors warned, may cause paralysis and even death.

CUBA JUDICIARY IS 'UNDERGROUND'

MIAMI, Fla. (UPI)—An exiled Cuban Supreme Court justice said today that almost the entire membership of the Cuban judiciary has gone underground.

Former Judge Francisco Alabau Trelles, 35, said it was the desertion of the judges which prompted Fidel Castro's announcement today that 17 supreme court justices have been fired, and that the governor will reorganize the lower court system.

ALABAU TRELLES, who arrived in Florida in a small boat Dec. 12, said "all freedom" of Cuban judges to administer justice "disappeared" about four months ago. He said the Association of Cuban Judges decided then to oppose Castro. He said 522 of the 528 members agreed with the plan.

It called for them either to go underground or leave the country, the refugee judge said.

The plan was upset when Castro ordered the Supreme Court to censure the chief justice, Emilio Menendez. Of the 30 justices on the court with Menendez, 12 voted in favor of the censure, nine refused, and eight hid out to avoid voting.

THIS FORCED MENENDEZ, Alabau Trelles said, to take refuge in the Argentine Embassy. And this tipped off Castro to the judges' plan.

Alabau Trelles said he decided to try to get out of Cuba and direct the efforts of the other judges to escape. After two unsuccessful attempts to flee, he escaped in a boat and arrived in the Florida Keys Dec. 12.
